Here are a few Jokes to laugh

1. Man in a Restaurant: 'Waiter, there's a dead fly in my soup!'
Waiter: 'Yes, sir, it's the hot water that kills them.'
'Waiter, waiter, there's a fly in my soup!'
'Don't worry, sir, the spider in the salad will get it.'

2. WAITER: 'How did you find your steak, sir?'
DINER: 'Quite by accident. I moved a few peas and there it was.'
DINER: 'This restaurant must have a very clean kitchen.'
OWNER: 'Thank you sir, but how did you know?'
DINER: 'Everything tastes of soap.'
'Waiter, what soup is this?'
'It's bean soup sir.'
'I don't care what it was, I want to know what it is now.'

3. 'Doctor, doctor, I keep thinking I'm invisible. 'Who said that?'
'Doctor, doctor, I've just swallowed a sheep.'
'How do you feel?' 'Very ba-a-a-ad.'
'Doctor, doctor, what can I do, my little boy has swallowed my pen?'
'Use a pencil till I get there.'
'Doctor, my family think I'm mad.'
'Why?'
'Because I like sausages.'
'Nonsense, I like sausages too.'
'You do? You must come round and see my collection. I have hundreds.'

4. MAN: 'Ouch! A crab just bit my toe.'
DR.: 'Which one?' 'MAN: 'I don't know, all crabs look alike to me.'
DOCTOR: 'Did you drink your orange juice after your bath?'
PATIENT: 'After drinking the bath I didn't have too much room for the orange juice'
Doctor, doctor, I lost my memory.'
'When did this happen?'
'When did what happen?'

Horoscope Capricorn (22.12. - 20.01.)

The Capricorn and its typical character traits

The typical Capricorn is persistent, persistent, resilient, down to earth, disciplined, ambitious, serious, patient, straightforward, thorough, principled, persistent, resourceful, smart, conservative, focused, orderly, dutiful, realistic, objective, self-critical, strategic, traditional, loyal, responsible, reasonable and careful.

Weaknesses: authoritarian, narrow-minded, controlled, pedantic, pessimistic, stubborn, stiff, dry, over-structured, inexorable, unsociable and aloof.

Life motto: I take responsibility! I am performing!

Love & partnership

Due to a Venus square, it is difficult for you to maintain the relationship harmony.

Criticizing your partner is twice as hard now, so be sure to choose your words wisely. Also do not insist on your right, if it is not absolutely necessary. Singles should use their fantastic charisma and great flirting opportunities to find a partner.

Occupation & Finance

Mercury is in Scorpio until Dec. 12, which has a positive impact on your career: you can not beat words and writing, negotiations are in your favor, and in contracts, your analytical gaze helps you to spot and eliminate small errors immediately. In the second half of the month, Mars and Saturn will support you in professional matters. They are sociable, reliable and diplomatic - and thus contribute to a harmonious working atmosphere.

Financially, everything is in order.

Health & Fitness

In terms of health, it goes up and down in December. On the one hand you are in top shape and good mood, try out all winter sports.

On the other hand, the constant thirst for action quickly becomes too much for you and then you need relaxation. As an earth sign you draw strength from nature. During long walks you can get some fresh air and get your mind free.

Back pain prevention

To avoid back pain, you must reduce excess stresses and strains on your back and ensure your back is strong and supple.

If you have recurring bouts of back pain, consider:

losing any excess weight – you can use the body mass index BMI calculator to find out whether you are a healthy weight for your height wearing flat shoes with cushioned soles – these can reduce the stress on your back avoiding sudden movements or muscle strain trying to reduce any stress, anxiety and tension.

Posture

How you sit, stand and lie down can have an important effect on your back. The following tips should help you maintain a good posture.

Standing

Stand upright, with your head facing forward and your back straight.

Balance your weight evenly on both feet and keep your legs straight.

Sitting

You should be able sit upright with support in the small of your back. Your knees and hips should be level and your feet should be flat on the floor (use a footstool if necessary). Some people find it useful to use a small cushion or rolled-up towel to support the small of the back. If you use a keyboard, make sure that your forearms are horizontal and your elbows are at right angles.

Driving

Make sure that your lower back is properly supported. Correctly positioning your wing mirrors will prevent you from having to twist around. Foot controls should be squarely in front of your feet. If driving long distances, take regular breaks so that you can stretch your legs.

Sleeping

Your mattress should be firm enough to support your body while supporting the weight of your shoulders and buttocks, keeping your spine straight. If your mattress is too soft, place a firm board – ideally 2cm thick – on top of the base of your bed and under the mattress. Support your head with a pillow, but make sure that your neck is not forced up at a steep angle.

Exercise

Exercise is both an excellent way to prevent back pain and to reduce any back pain you might have. However, if you have chronic back pain (back pain that has lasted for more than 3 months), consult your doctor or physiotherapist before starting any exercise program. Exercises such as walking or swimming strengthen the muscles that support your back without putting any strain on it or subjecting it to a sudden jolt. Activities such as yoga or pilates can improve the flexibility and the strength of your back muscles. It is important that you carry out these activities under the guidance of a properly qualified instructor.

Many people injure their back when doing everyday chores at home or work, such as lifting, gardening or using a vacuum cleaner. 'Warming up' your back with some gentle stretching before you start these chores can help to prevent injury.

Lifting and handling

One of the biggest causes of back injury, especially at work, is lifting or handling objects incorrectly. Learning and following the correct method for lifting and handling objects can help to prevent back pain. Think before you lift – can you manage the lift?

Are there any handling aids you can use? Where is the load going?

Start in a good position – your feet should be apart, with one leg slightly forward to maintain balance. When lifting, let your legs take the strain – bend your back, knees and hips slightly, but do not stoop or squat. Tighten your stomach muscles to pull your pelvis in. Do not straighten your legs before lifting as you may strain your back on the way up. Keep the load close to your waist for as long as possible, with the heaviest end nearest to you. Avoid twisting your back or leaning sideways, especially when your back is bent. Your shoulders should be level and should face in the same direction as your hips. Turning by moving your feet is better than lifting and twisting at the same time. Keep your head up – once you have the load secure, look ahead, not down at the load. Know your limits – there is a big difference between what you can lift and what you can safely lift. If in doubt, get help.

Push rather than pull – if you have to move a heavy object across the floor, it is better to push it rather than pull it. Distribute the weight evenly – if you are carrying shopping bags or luggage, try to distribute the weight evenly on both sides of your body.

You should Remember these Wisdom Sayings

Fight for what makes you move on. Accept what you can not change.
And separate yourself from what pulls you down.

4 things do not come back in life. The days you have experienced.
The experiences you have made.
The words that you've used. The chance you missed!

The best time in your life are those little moments when you feel you're at the right time, in the right place.

Faith in miracles, love and happiness! Look ahead, not back!
Do whatever you want and stand by it, because your life is alive only you!

The true character of a human does not show up at the first meeting but at the last ...

In the end everything will be fine. If it does not go well, it's not the end yet.

Love sayings for every Day

The others are the far blue sea yet
you are my haven.

So many places in the world and still your arms are my favourite spot.

Love seems to be the most beautiful part of a soul.

Any hardship in life
can be cured by love.

We all have to die at one point but dying without love seems to be the worst death.

For love a man would cross a thousand miles.

Love is the world's most universal language that anyone can speak.

Love can never be explained by science. It just exists.

Love crosses borders
and unites nations.
