Bohol, Im Almost There!

Bohol, a region in the philippines is one stop that's hot on my travel bucket list. I have never been there but i have read a lots stories, viewed fascinating pictures and heard enticing commentaries from my friends who got the chance to visit this island. Here are the main attractions in bohol that I'm looking forward to see:

The Loboc River, also known as the emerald River. They say one can take a cruise in this green river on a floating restaurant. It's like hitting two birds with one stone---exploring the scenery and tasting the local cuisine. Plus I'd Like to learn gems of bohol Culture from its music and dance as well as its history.

The Tarsiers, in their natural habitat, of course. These rare species of primates (one of the finest in the world) are one of the main attractions of Bohol. Tarsiers eat bugs. One Known caveat to curious visitors is that they commit suicide from trauma of being touchd or from loud noises. They are also nocturnal animals. So when we get the chance to observe a Tarsier , make it a point not to touchthem or scare them.

The Chocolate Hills, Based on my " Google" search, these hills are green during the rainy season and turn brown in the dry season. Too bad the hills aren't edible chocolates---mint chocolate in rainy season, regular chocolate in dry season---LOL.

There are 1,268 hills carved by nature. Ahh, before one can reach the chocolate hills there is another attraction.

It is the man-made forest called Bilar's.

Panglao Beaches, everyone says it's worth the trip! OK, we will have to travel from Bohol city to reach these white sand beaches.

As i learned from the internet, Panglao has pristine dive spots and coral reefs. They say that while in Panglao Island, you can also take a side trip to Hinagdanan Cave. It's a cave that has an underground lagoon with stalagmites and stalactites---The Perfect tourist destination for adventurers.

Hand crafted in Angeles City

Here are a few Jokes to laugh

WHO CAN'T HEAR

A man goes to the doctor, concerned about his wife's hearing. The doctor says, "Stand behind her and say something and tell me how close you are when she hears you." The man goes home, sees his wife in the kitchen, cutting carrots on the countertop. About 15 feet away he says, "Honey, what's for dinner?" Nothing. He gets halfway to her and repeats the same question. Nothing. Very concerned, he gets right behind her and asks again "What's for dinner?" She turns around and says "For the THIRD time, beef stew!"

WARNING

Q: Daddy, why are all those cars beeping their horns?
A: Because there's a wedding going happening.
Q: Don't we been the horn a warning signal, Daddy?
A: Exactly, son.

WHAT MEN REALLY LOVE

I said, "I love you so much. I could never live without you." My girlfriend giggled and asked, "Is that you talking or the beer?" I said, "It's me talking to the beer..."

LOOKING FOR LOVE

This man was really lonely, so he posted an ad on a popular website. The ad said, simply: "Wife wanted." He was surprised the next morning to find he had over a hundred replies in his inbox. Unfortunately, they all said the same thing: "You can have mine."
